research, advertising, and promotional activities.

At our booth, we showcased mainly Kawazoe's end-face machining machines, drawing machines, and straightening machines. During the exhibition, we welcomed representatives from approximately 50 pipe manufacturing companies, conducting product presentations and business negotiations.

In addition to product promotion, the exhibition enabled us to gather valuable information for future marketing and business development, including insights into local competitors and trends and structure in the pipe industry. Leveraging this knowledge, we will continue to proactively promote our business activities in India and other global markets.
